Director Presents for State Legislature and Online Blog

Kathleen Paul, PCEE director, updated members of the state legislature during a recent public Environmental Issues Forum of the PA Joint Legislative Conservation Committee in Harrisburg. The committee is chaired by Representative Scott E. Hutchinson (R-Venango/Butler).

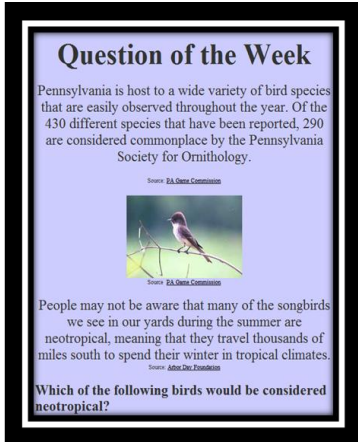

Highlights of her presentation can be seen in a video blog at the Pennsylvania Environmental Digest (PA Environmental Digest Video Blog). Ms. Paul was interviewed by David E. Hess, Director of Policy and Communications for Crisci Associates and editor of the online newsletter.

'Question of the Week' Returns

One of our more popular online activities, "Question of the Week" returns to educate and entertain Pennsylvanians for another semester. Providing thought-provoking questions and information about Pennsylvania's environment, each week's question highlights a current or seasonal topic.

The questions target students in grades 4 – 10, and are aligned with the PA Environment and Ecology Academic Standards. Each question provides links for research and additional activities that can be incorporated into the classroom.

It isn't just students who enjoy "Question of the Week!" Numerous adults participate and find it an enjoyable way to learn about the environment, close to home. Answer the question today, and check back the following week to see if you got it right!
